The recent grounding of the container vessel “Ever Given” in Suez Canal caused serious congestion and hundreds of vessels were held up on both sides of the canal, which led to delays and subsequently affected the global supply chain. Many parties like cargo insurers, P & I Clubs, ship owners, freight forwarders, shippers and consignees are affected by the delay to different extent.

Marine Insurance Club is delighted to invite the following experienced professionals in various marine fields to share their perspectives and practical experience on handling grounding cases at busy canals, detailed agenda is as below:
